Southern California's Chances in the Senate.

BARKIS IS WILLIN', BUT TIME IS SHORT.

The Los Angeles Bills Likely to Go Over—Goode's Case—The Slickens Question.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—One obstacle to the passage of the bill in the Senate creating a new judicial district in Southern California has been the opposition of Senator Edmunds, but that obstruction has been removed. After considering the matter thoroughly and looking over the legal statistics of Southern California, which Mr. Markham collected for him, he has come out in favor of the bill and promises to report it to the Senate at once. At present the pressure of business in the Senate is so great that only appropriation bills find hearing, but if there is an opening Mr. Edmunds has promised to put the Southern California Judicial bill before the Senate. Mr. Stanford has urged Senator Edmunds to do all he can to get the bill up.

It is the opinion here that Representative Markham will not be able to get up the bill appropriating $75,000 for a public building at Los Angeles at this session, but that the bill will be reached next session if not taken up now.

XLIX CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The Chair laid before the Senate the resolutions of the convention of Republican editors of Ohio, urging an investigation of the charges as to the election of Senator Payne, and two other documents on the same subject. Referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

The Senate resumed consideration of the River and Harbor Appropriation bill, the pending amendment being to strike out the provision to prevent the dumping of detritus from hydraulic mining into the Sacramento or Feather rivers of California.

Mr. Stanford advocated the proposed legislation as absolutely necessary to prevent the filling up of the Sacramento river and the bay of San Francisco. His amendment was to amend the provision by inserting the words; "By water used through pipes and used through nozzles under pressure," so that it would direct legal proceedings to prevent the washing, stirring, dumping or discharging of detritus from hydraulic mining by water used through pipes and used through nozzles under pressure.

The amendment was objected to.

On motion of Mr. Hearst the text was further amended by adding the words, "and against mountain banks."

The question was on striking out the provision directing legal proceedings to prevent the dumping of detritus.

The provision was struck out—yeas 31, nays 19.

On motion of Mr. Hoar, the words "To the substantial injury of navigation" were inserted in the section.

The amendment of the committee, restricting the application of the section to hydraulic mining, was agreed to.

The motion to strike out the second section was postponed till after all the committee amendments were disposed of. Most of the remaining corrections proposed by the committee were mere corrections of phraseology. They were all agreed to.

Mr. Hale read his motion to strike out section 2, and it was agreed to—yeas 27, nays 14.

On motion of Mr. Conger a provision was inserted authorizing the Secretary of War to establish harbor lines in places where they have not been established, and also to establish lines within which deposits of material may be made without injury to navigation.

The bill being completed as in committee of the whole, was reported to the Senate.

Without acting on the amendments, the Senate, at midnight, adjourned.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The House resumed consideration of the Senate amendment to the Leclsiative Appropriation bill.

The Senate amendment relating to the publication of records of the rebellion was concurred in, with the amendment reported from the Committee on Appropriations, for the publication of papers relating to the defense in the case of Fitz John Porter.

This concluded the consideration of the amendments, and a conference was asked upon the amendments which had not been concurred in.

GOODE'S CASE.

The President Urged to Nominate Him Again.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Ex-Senator Johnstone and Representatives Tucker, Cabel, Wise, Crofton and Trigg waited on the President this morning and urged the re-nomination of John Goode as Solicitor General. They represented that Goode had not been fairly treated by the Senate, and was not given sufficient opportunity to refute the charges which led to his rejection. A member of the delegation is authority for the statement that the President, after listening to their representations, expressed sympathy for Goode, and stated that he had the case under consideration, but had not yet determined what course to pursue.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The Post's Washington special says: The President has not given any indication of what he proposes to do in the case of Solicitor General Goode. If the President determines to make another nomination, and concludes to select a Southern man, it is thought that ex-Chief Justice Thomas C. Manning, of Louisiana, will receive the appointment. Ex-Attorney General Gwinn, of Maryland, has been mentioned in connection with the office, but he has made no application for it. Among those prominently mentioned from the Northwest is Commissioner of Patents Montgomery.

AUDITOR BROWN.

His Long Trial Results in a Final Acquittal.

DES MOINES, July 13.—The entire day was spent in taking a final vote on the impeachment of Auditor Brown. There were thirty counts to the indictment, and the roll of the Senate was called on each. The votes for conviction ranged from one to fifteen on the different counts. Three times there were fifteen Senators who voted guilty. These votes were on articles charging Brown with refusing to give up his office when suspended by the Governor, and continuing to act as Auditor, and for his approval of Actuary Vail's charges for examination of Iowa insurance companies. Altogether twenty-one different persons voted for conviction. Of these thirteen were Republicans and eight were Democrats. There not being a two-thirds of the fifty senators voting guilty, Brown was declared acquitted, and will probably be reinstated tomorrow. The trial has lasted eight weeks and cost about $30,000.

A Conference Without Results.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The conference between the Directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Panama Railway Company, has adjourned without taking any action on the contested payment by the Pacific Mail. Another meeting will be held.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The Great Tanners' Strike—Telegraph Operators Quit Work.

BOSTON, July 13.—The lockout in the tannery and currying shops at Peabody and Salem was fully inaugurated this morning, in accordance with the vote of the Knights of Labor at their meeting last evening. The men refused to go to work in the shops where the notice of the executive committee had been posted. This affects not only the tanners but the curriers. There are 54 tanneries, and they employ on an average twenty tanners. The tanners' strike includes the journeymen tanners and others. There are only three places, as far as known, where the notice was not posted. The men all went to the shops this morning. The bosses were all present. In shops where they had been in the habit of beginning work at 6 o'clock they were refused admission, and in the others they found the notices posted and left. The result is that over three thousand men are now idle. Both sides are firm.

The strike of the Salem and Lynn tanners is for a reduction of working time to fifty-nine hours a week. Yesterday the manufacturers held a meeting and soon afterwards a notice was posted in the shops, as follows:

"Hereafter we shall employ only such men as will bargain individually with us and agree to take no part in any strike whatever. All men desiring so to be employed by us will be here on Tuesday morning, July 13, at the usual hour of opening the factory. We are determined to stand by all men who do so, and are also determined to run our business without dictation."

THE TELEGRAPHERS.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Representatives of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in this city, state that four operators at Omaha have stopped work and the remaining 33 are at work. They also declare that no operators have stopped work at Ogden or other points. General Superintendent Clowry states that the district superintendents have standing orders to arrange so that no over-time work shall be done, but to keep on hand a sufficient force of men to obviate over-time.

NO TROUBLE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—A rumor reached here this morning that a strike of telegraph operators at this point was imminent. On investigation, it was shown that it was absolutely devoid of foundation, and that the operators have no intention of striking.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Biennial Session at Toronto—A Brilliant Affair.

TORONTO, Ont., July 13.—One of the grandest sights ever witnessed in Toronto was the pasade of the Uniformed Knights of Pythias this afternoon. They mustered on Clarence Square about 4 p. m., where an immense crowd had assembled, and the column, headed by Major General Canahan, Adjutant General Newell and a brilliant staff, all mounted, began its grand march through the streets. There were divisions from as far away as Florida and New Orleans, and it is estimated that between 5000 and 6000 Knights were in line. All along the route the streets were packed with spectators, and the windows of dwellings and stores were crowded. It was a perfect ovation from start to finish. At Queen's Park a halt was made for fifteen minutes, and here 10,000 persons had congregated. The well-executed movement of the several divisions while marching were received with rousing cheers. The column occupied half an hour in passing a given point. Several prominent members of the Order say it was the grandest parade of Uniformed Knights that has yet taken place.

This afternoon the Supreme Prelate, Dr. Jing, held an "At Home," many Knights and prominent citizens being present. To-night a public reception was held in the Mutual Street Rink, at which addresses of welcome were made in behalf of the city and Order in Ontario. Responses were made by Supreme Chancellor Van Valkenberg and others. To-night a steamer took the Knights on a moonlight excursion around the island. After the sail, the Knights all landed on the island, where they witnessed a grand display of fireworks from a barge anchored in the bay. The Supreme Lodge has been in session all day. The draft of a ritual for a ladies' rank was presented and referred to a special committee. The other business transacted was purely routine. It is generally conceded that Howard Douglas, Supreme Vice-Chancellor, will be the next Supreme Chancellor. Chicago is favored as the place of holding the next biennial session, but Cincinnati has many supporters.

An Easy Mistake.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Rear-Admiral Reed Werden, the announcement of whose death at Newport was telegraphed, this morning, was mentioned in the despatch as having commanded the Monitor in the fight with the Merrimac. This is a mistake, as the former was commanded by Admiral Worden. The similarity of names caused the mistake.

PUSHING AHEAD.

The University of Los Angeles Growing Tangible.

The Board of Trustees of the University of Los Angeles held a meeting on the 12th instant. There were present: Dr. J. W. Parker, S. M. Davidson, Prof. A. C. Potter and S. I. Merrill, of Los Angeles; Rev. Chas. Button and Otis T. Dyer, of Riverside; Prof. T. N. Wells, of Santa Ana; A. T. Currier, of Spadra; and Dr. J. B. Tombs, of Anaheim.

The Board adopted by-laws. The chairman of the Finance Committee reported very encouraging results from his labors, and said there was no doubt whatever that the entire $10,000 necessary to begin building would be obtained shortly. The Building Committee was instructed to take immediate steps to secure plans and specifications for the building, and to have work begun on the grounds at once. The meeting then adjourned until the 10th of August.

AMUSEMENTS.

A MOUNTAIN PINK.—Miss Bella Moore, a young actress whose name and fame are new to this coast, appeared at the Grand Opera House last night in the title role of the Mountain Pink, described in the bills as a most successful comedy, but which is really a dime novel, dramatized in five acts, of the melodramatic and intensely Bowery style. The story of the piece is not worth repeating, but the action is always exciting, dealing with "moonshiners," who are continually drawing knives and revolvers with deadly purpose, and who are always "foiled" just as they appear about to succeed. Miss Moore personated a young woman brought up in the mountains of North Carolina, in the midst of the foregoing delectable company, and she has a dialect which, when she remembers to use it, is quite pretty, although her other speech is prettier. She has plenty of stage ease, a good voice, and is fortunate in the possession of a charming face, whose mobile expression lends piquancy to the character she assumes. As a set off to the roughness of the moonshiners, the Southern gentleman (Louis Eagan) and the Southern rose (May Russell) are introduced; also, a New Yorker (Frank Hennig), whose exploits and wonderful escapes from death and marriage, while wandering in the mountain fastnesses before spoken of, require to be seen to be appreciated.

The piece was well received, especially by a large constituency in the gallery, and will be repeated at the matinee this afternoon, and again this evening, for the benefit of the N. S. G. W.

ANDREAS.—Andreas and his trained animals are playing to crowded canvas, and delighting all who attend. Andreas is a whole circus in himself, has a strong company, both human and quadrupedal, and is giving an extremely popular entertainment.

An Ex-Convict Killed Near San Luis Obispo.

AFTER SHOOTING AT HIS PURSUERS.

Death of a Noted Actress—Geronimo Again Heard from—Aid for the Irish Cause—Etc.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, July 13.—This morning the Coroner held an inquest over the remains of Henry C. D. King, killed on Estrella Plains Monday by J. P. Moody. The facts developed are to the effect that Moody suspected King of stealing a quantity of barbed wire from him. The wire was traced to a hiding-place near King's ranch, and a watch was instituted. Sunday night Moody and a man named Rucklidge went on guard. About 3 o'clock Monday morning King appeared with a wagon, secured the wire and started for his ranch. Moody and Rucklidge pursued, and overtaking King ordered him to stop. King not heeding, Moody repeated the order, adding that he would shoot if not obeyed. King immediately jumped from his wagon and fired, missing his aim. Moody returned the fire with a shot-gun, lifting the top off King's head. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. King was an ex-convict, sent from Alameda county to the penitentiary, April, 1879, for ten years, for assault to murder, and pardoned January 1, 1885. His name appears in a pardon found among his effects as Clark DeForrest.

SHOCKING AFFAIR.

A Brother and Sister Commit Suicide Together.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Adrien Crucy and his sister, Lucie, were found dead at 60 Lexington street, yesterday. Adrien was a well-known business man, had a seat in the Produce Exchange, and was a member of the Maritime and Metal Exchange, and comparatively well off. Yesterday morning neither Adrien nor Lucie appeared at the breakfast table. A servant, later, knocked at the door of Adrien's room, and, getting no response, called a policeman, and the door was broken in. Adrien was found lying on his back on the bed. His face was turned toward the ceiling. His iron-gray moustache was flecked with blood, and his gray hair was dripping with it. In his right hand was an old-style 32-calibre Smith & Wesson five-shooter. One chamber was discharged, and the ball had gone into his brain, entering the back of the right temple. On a little iron cot at his right side, a foot lower than his bed, lay his sister on her left side, facing him. Her right temple was crushed and she was dead. She held in her right hand a 38-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver. A 38-caliber bullet was found on the pillow, where it had spent its force after going through her head. The revolver had been fired but once, and cartridges were found in the other four chambers. A note on the table signed by both, said:

"We commit suicide of our own accord."

Other documents show by directions as to many details that the couple had contemplated suicide for some time.

A Malicious Lie Nailed.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 13.—Some malicious meddlers in Chicago and New York, in order to lessen interest in the forthcoming Irish National League convention, pretended to have received information by cable from Ireland, that the delegation from Parliament promised in the cable message which Mr. Harrington, M. P., on behalf of Mr. Parnell, sent to President Egan of the Irish National League some days ago, was not coming, Mr. Egan cabled Mr. Harrington this morning and received promptly the following reply:

"DUBLIN, July 13.—To Patrick Egan, President Irish National League, Lincoln Neb.: The report of the deputation not going is a malicious falsehood. Some members of the delegation are already named. Will send you the names of all in a few days.

[Signed,] TIMOTHY HARRINGTON."

A NABBER NABBED.

Jesus Gonzales's Brief Career as a Horse Thief.

Dan Kevane arrived in town on Sunday night with a two-horse team and wagon and put up at a livery stable. He was accompanied by a Mexican, Jesus Gonzales by name. On Monday Gonzales went to the livery stable owner and told him that Mr. Kevane had sent him for the rig, which was delivered to him. When it was found out that the Mexican had skipped with the horses and wagon, Kevane went to the Sheriff's office and reported the matter. Telegrams were sent in all directions. Ex-United States Deputy Marshal Tom Hayes, when informed of the matter here in town, said he had passed a rig driven by a Mexican, answering the description, which was heading for Wilmington. Under Sheriff Thornton advised Deputy Sheriff Sam Thompson, of Wilmington, to be on the look-out for the grand larcenist. It was ascertained that Gonzales put up at Vickery & Hind's slaughter-house, and there the Deputy Sheriff found and arrested him yesterday afternoon. The horses and wagon were secured, and Gonzales will be brought up in the morning for examination.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

A Train-Abhorring Horse Makes Trouble.

Yesterday morning at 9:56, as the Santa Ana train was pulling out from the Old Depot, Cyrus Lyons and a Mexican named Eduardo Gallego were coming in a light wagon along Alameda towards Aliso street. The mare attached to their vehicle took fright at the snorting of the engine and made a side dash which landed the wagon against the curbstone at the corner of Sainsevain street and broke a front wheel. The thoroughly frightened animal now made a dash down Sainsevain street, overturning the buggy, from which Gallego was thrown violently. Lyons was underneath the buggy, but held on to the lines. Assistance came and the mare was unhitched. Officer Bulo picked up the Mexican, who was suffering a good deal, and carried him to Torbe's drug store. Dr. Orme made an examination of his injuries and found two of the ankle bones, in one foot, fractured. Mr. Gallego was carried to his home, corner Aliso and Bameres streets, where he is now doing well. C. Lyons had a few small bruises, but otherwise escaped all injury.

An Unsafe Hiding-place.

Sexton I. P. Smith, of the City Cemetery, saw a man meandering through the alleys of the burial ground late on Monday night, whilst he was watering flowers. The stranger approached a fresh grave covered with flowers, where he appeared to commune with himself for a while, when he left. Yesterday the stranger returned to the same grave, and became very wroth after a hasty inspection of a flower-cross. He said that he had left $100 in gold underneath it the night before for safe keeping, and that it was gone. There is some hope that the crank may recover his money, as there is a clue to the early bird that got there before him, but such unadulterated greenness deserves a lesson worth $100.

Religious Riots Again Break Out in Ireland—France Expels the Orleanists—Other News from Abroad.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Times.

LONDON, July 13.—Parnell has written a letter in which he says: "The statements of Lord Hartington that the Irish party and National League are in union with the American Fenians are untrue. I know nothing whatever of any Fenian organization in Ireland or America, beyond what I have learned from the newspapers. I have never had any communication with the leaders of such organizations or accepted any alliance with them. I do not even know who the leaders are. No union of the National League and Fenians has ever been made. I should never have consented. I have always successfully endeavored to keep the National League within the strictest bounds of legality. In spite of the unblushing falsehoods which have partially and temporarily frustrated the modest aspirations of Ireland, the Irish people will continue to maintain a peaceable and legal aspect, declining to afford any pretext to Lord Hartington or his Tory allies to resort to the brutalities of coercion."

THE HARRINGTON-SALISBURY COALITION.

LONDON, July 13.—An arrangement has been arrived at by which Lord Salisbury accepts Lord Hartington's home rule policy, which involves the maintenance of the full powers of the imperial Parliament. The appointment of judges and the local administration are centered in the imperial Parliament. Lord Hartington is still reluctant to join the Conservative ministry, although he has pledged himself to support coercive measures and the general policy of the Conservatives.

The totals of members elected, at midnight, are: Conservatives and Unionists, 365; Gladstonians, 241.

At the regular fortnightly meeting of the National League, to-day, the treasurer announced that the donations received from the United States for the Parliamentary Fund within the past two weeks amounted to £8,000.

Instead of Seeking the Arctic He Goes to Jail.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Col. William H. Gilder, who intended to leave New York this afternoon and join the whaling schooner Eva at New London, Conn., and proceed on her to the coast of Greenland, and afterwards undertake to find the North Pole, did not leave New York, as he was detained on a charge of stealing a $1000 bond of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company. Sally Adams, a professional swimmer, was the complainent. She said that she gave Gilder the bond in February, 1883, asking him at the same time to find out if it was good or not, and had since been unable to get possession of it. Col. Gilder was arrested and taken to Jefferson Market police court. He pleaded not guilty. He stated that Miss Adams had asked him to take care of the bond. He had interviewed a friend who told him that it was not good, and he so told Miss Adams. He then left it with Boody McClelland & Co., on Broadway. Soon after the Colonel sailed for China. Before sailing, he had borrowed money from Boody, McClelland & Co. He presumed that the bond would remain in their custody, but, while away, the firm sold it. He admitted that he never made restitution for the bond, but claimed that he had been unable to see plaintiff since May 18, although he had made several efforts to do so. He acknowledged that he owed plaintiff the amount of the bond, but asserted that there was no criminal intent on his part to defraud her of the bond or its value. The police justice held him in $1500 for trial. He did not secure bail to-night.

Anarchists in the Guise of Labor.

Foreign anarchists are waking to the fact that dynamite and bombs are not the most effective weapons to use upon American soil. They are beginning to understand that the American idea of liberty does not mean defiance of law and the assertion of the individual will, above the supreme will of the majority, and thus their latest determination is to lay hold of the one effective instrument of liberty—the ballot box—and carry out their designs for the destruction of good government under the guise of legal authority. The call has been issued, "Workingmen, arm yourselves with citizens' papers!" The term "workingmen," as used by these leading anarchists, and addressed to their great army of foreign agitators and communistic deputies, is somewhat fanciful and overdrawn, but it is, as they are, of course, by this time aware, the only safe term for them to appropriate in addressing themselves publicly to their tools and hirelings. The desperate condition of the arrested anarchists and the hopelessness of the cause of these foreign agitators is set forth in a recent address by Dr. Ernest Schmidt, who is the chief anarchist leader out of jail. He says: "There is only one way left to save the prisoners; that is an energetic, resolute and successful election campaign. If the State's attorney gets a willing jury, several sentences of death will be found and executed. The condemned men will doubtless be hanged, unless next fall an imposing number of votes is given for a clean, unimpeachable and independent workingmen's ticket. Should the verdict of the jury pronounce them guilty, we shall ask a respite from the higher courts, and may be able to drag it along until after the election. But, unless many thousands then show that they back up the accused, they will still be the hangman's prey. For this reason the campaign should begin at once, and never relax until after November 2. The time has come. If workingmen fail to take my advice, they will themselves hand over those whom they call their friends to the headsman."

Think of it! Such men triumphing at the polls and dispensing the laws in the name of the workingmen of America!

THE monumental greatness of Sam Jones is apparent in the absence of all desire to visit revenge upon a rich man who had borrowed a neighbor's carriage to drive him to the camp-meeting grounds at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and who then had the infinite meanness to charge him $3 for the ride. Mr. Jones forgave him, simply remarking, in his own forcible and elegant words: "If the old hog would only come up here and get converted, the money would be well-spent." No one can question Sam Jones's piety, after such an exhibition of forbearance as this.

SOUTH WAX, an alleged humorous writer, is doing up Southern California editors for the Middletown (Delaware) Transcript. At last reports he had reached Los Angeles and was up a stump with the Democratic candidates. They were too lugubrious a lot for his broad funny pen.

ART NOTES.

A good picture is like a poem, one of Nature's grandest interpreters. Indeed, the artist who can take nature as she is, and put her upon his canvas, with all the marvels of atmospheric light and shade, the luminous glow of the sunrise, the hot glare of the noon, and the tender, softened tints of the twilight,

When day seems lingering with a softened glow,
Breathing his secrets in eve's dusky ear,
The soft winds whispering words we may not know,
The lisping low voicing words we may not hear, must have the soul of a poet, writing his symphonies in colors instead of word built rhymes.

Pictures appealing to the nobler sensibilities of the mind have an educating mission—educating the eye to clearer vision and the heart to a larger love of the beautiful and sublime, and in this light they are invaluable.

Among the artists of long standing in San Francisco prominent for their merit is W. W. Armstrong, of whom most favorable mention has been recently made by the San Francisco Chronicle.

Griffith J. Griffith, of Los Feliz ranch, a liberal gentleman and a most generous patron of art, has recently purchased some of the works of this artist, and placed them on exhibition for a few days at the drugstore of Preuss & Hance, on Spring street, where nearly every passer-by stops for a look at them.

In the large show-window is placed a full view of Yosemite valley, 46x65 inches. It is the wonderful valley, as you view it approaching from the Mariposa road, with its fine, far reaching perspective and marvelous atmospheric effects. On the right is the Bridal Veil Fall, with the mighty mass of rock towering above it, the water falling in a mist-like veil, luminous with light. On the left is the bald and massive front of El Capitan, rising like a rock-hewn firmament above the rushing waters of the blue Merced, while, far off, catching the sunrise lights, is the towering, broken summit of the majestic Half Dome. On the right in the middle distance, with its rock-hewn spires piercing the blue of the heavens, is Cathedral Rock, and beyond and before it the long line of peaks which make Yosemite the wonder of the world. In the foreground is a group of Digger Indians in native costume. Behind and about them the lowering trees, the massive boulders along the valley's base and the rude wigwams of bark. In the picture is the far reach of the valley's line, the rich foliage of primeval giants, the glowing lights, the cooler shadows, and the sky crowning those mighty summits. It is Yosemite in miniature, grand, beautiful and sublime.

Mr. Griffith paid $500 for this picture, and is fully satisfied with the price. Another picture by the same artist, is entitled "Fording the Russian River," near Cloverdale. In this, grand old mountain peaks loom skyward, tall and silent. The dark clouds have gathered about their summits, and the white flying mists sweep about their sides. There is a tinge of autumn glory upon the trees, a drift of warm color upon the base of the heights, but their tops loom solemn and gray amid the clouds. On one side the river is the cool green forest, and the yellow line of road, from which a white-topped carryall has just emerged and entered the limpid water. Massive boulders lie upon the sands upon the other side, and above the ford is the white, foaming cataract. The shadows of the forest lie upon the stream, the mighty hills are mirrored in its depths, and, looking upon the picture, one feels that there he might be alone with Nature and Nature's God.

This picture Mr. Griffith has purchased for $250.

The third picture by Mr. Armstrong is of Gray's Peak, Col., showing a gathering storm in the Rocky Mountains. It is a triumph in its perspective and cloud effects. The vast wall of mountains stretching through the cañoned distance, stretching upward till the clouds seem to rest upon their crests; the majestic waterfall, its mist like spray, spread like a veil along the river's line; the overhanging precipices; the varying lights and shadows; the cloudy curtain veiling the side of Gray's Peak, whose bold, sun-lighted summit is lifted into the infinite deeps of the sky far above the tossing clouds—the distance so blue and dim, the giant trees, all combined, make a picture which is an eloquent chapter on the sublime and hidden fastnesses of this mountain world.

Mr. Armstrong will be in Los Angeles in the fall, and then our citizens will have an opportunity to see more of his work, which is so full of strength and power.

TRIFLES OF THE TIMES.

THE CABLE CAR.

O let me ride on the car that goes
Without a horse to draw;
It speeds away with a sudden jerk,
With never a twitch at the jaw
Of a straining horse, whose sides you'd think
Would burst with the strain he makes
To pull the car that is loaded down
From the rear to the forward brakes.

A Hairy Family.

London Standard.]

Mr. Farini has made us acquainted with strange personages; but, assuredly, none more strange than those whom he is now exhibiting in one of the chambers of the Egyptian Hall, Piccadilly. This party consists of "The Burmese Royal Sacred Hairy Family." On the abdication or expulsion of King Theebaw his dependents were scattered far and wide, and among the deposed favorites were a mother and son, who are held to be sacred simply from the fact that they are covered with hair from head to foot. There is no possible imposture about this fact, for any visitor is permitted the closest inspection. From the forehead to the feet the hair is in thick profusion, especially over the face (which resembles that of the Skye terrier), where it has to be divided in order to allow the human eyes—for human they are—to see or be seen. On the man's face the hair is enormously thick, and measures in length over seven inches. The woman, his mother, who is 63 years of age, is also completely covered with hair, which is now growing gray.

Two Prophets.

Atlanta Constitution.]

It is said that the weather prophets of the country are considering the propriety of meeting in a sort of general congress. It seems that they have differed so widely in their prophecies that people have failed to pay them the attention they think they deserve, and they now desire to try and arrange a schedule by which they may secure uniformity. The proposed congress suggests an incident that occurred in Harris county some time ago. Two weather prophets announced that on a certain day a cyclone would whirl through the county. One declared that it would come in the morning and the other that it would come in the afternoon. On the evening preceding the day fixed by them for the cyclone's visit they met at the courthouse in Hamilton. A warm dispute as to which prophecy would prove to be correct took place between them, culminating in a fight, in which both were badly disfigured. Next day two cyclones visited the county, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. The day following the prophets compromised their differences and formed a partnership for the publication of an almanac.

The Judge Would Enjoy It.

Estelline Bell.]

The constable was sent out to bring an important witness on a trial before a Dakota Justice of the Peace. He soon returned without the man.

"What's the matter?" demanded the Justice.

"I found him holding a man's coat during a fight, and so didn't disturb him, your honor."

"Sir!" thundered the Justice, "don't you understand your duties better than that?"

"Why, your Honor, I thought this was your ruling in such cases."

"No, sir; this Court was never guilty of making any such order."

"What was it then?"

"That you were to immediately bring the parties fighting into the courtroom, where they could have it out, and I could see that they had fair play. Go right back after them. The jury will remain seated, and some of the spectators will move back the chairs and form a ring. Any gentlemen making bets must deposit the stakes with the Court, who will retain 10 per cent. commission. If this Court knows herself, she is going to have her share of the fun that is going on in the town!"

A Poem by Victor Hugo.

Victor Hugo speaks again in a poem which, so far as one can judge from the fragment which is telegraphed, is not much below his highest standard. The idea of Barabbas, released from prison, wandering about Jerusalem till he finds himself in Golgotha before the Cross, and, falling upon his knees there, addressing mankind, asking pardon of its victim, is an original and striking one. "Now," he exclaims, "that the gibbet holds the radiant apostle; that day expires beneath the weight of abject shadow; that He, the better, perishes that I, the worse, may live—O, I kiss His cross and these cold feet, and, monstrously saved by Him, I curse thee, impure world, and cowardly, and cruel; be cursed by him whom you have spared—horrible world, whose very mercy is ferocious—world too dull to feel the shudder of a hair at this appalling choice 'twixt God and Satan!" If we were accustomed in these days to passion plays, this scene would be one of very great power.

Benton's Hair Grower.

All who are bald, all who are becoming bald, all who do not want to be bald, all who are troubled with dandruff, or itching of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. Eighty per cent. of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years. We have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow hair in eighty cases out of a hundred, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a Hair food and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

What Came Ye Out for to See?

As the committee appointed to investigate the phenomenal exhibitions of "Will Force, or the Power of Mind Over Matter," and of the "Gift of Healing," as announced by Dr. A. P. Truesdell through the press of this city, on May 20th, and illustrated daily during the past three weeks at the Grand Opera House Hall, we submit, briefly, the following simple statement of facts, which have come under our immediate observation, and for the truth of which we assuredly testify in behalf of the public interest, but more especially for the benefit of the hopeless chronic sick.

We have ourselves witnessed the fulfillment of the promises made to the public and the sick by Dr. Truesdell in regard to the above referred to "Mysteries of Occult Force." We have again and again—in fact daily—witnessed the truth of the Doctor's marvelous claims for the "Inner Force of Man," by the even more marvelous proofs of the immediate removal of pain, paralysis, impotency, and scores of cases of divers diseases, both with and without he touch of hand—many being relieved of pain by merely being present at the hall while others were being operated upon. Come and see for yourselves.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

ONTARIO.

PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS ON EDUCATION—PERSONALS.

[Correspondence of the TIMES.]

ONTARIO, July 12.—In an item, a short time ago, it was stated that the bond scheme for the erection of a school house in the southern district of the colony, had been carried with but two dissenting votes—and one of these we believe was by mistake. And now the foothill section comes to the front by carrying their scheme by a solid, unanimous vote. Thus the immediate erection of two school-houses, to cost in the aggregate $8000, has been insured, and but one person in all the colony was found to say nay. Nothing could better indicate the class of people constituting this, in every respect, model settlement.

The past season has been a prosperous one for our nurserymen, the only trouble being that they were not able to furnish sufficient stock to supply the demand. At least this was the case with Mr. Harris at the citrus nursery, and Mr Shaw had all he could do to supply his customers in the deciduous line. Mr. Harris sold between 12,000 and 13,000 orange and lemon trees, the bulk of which were planted in the colony, and all would have been, had not part of the stock been sold to outside parties early in the season, thus compelling many of our late comers to seek elsewhere for their trees. Mr. Shaw disposed of between 55,000 and 60,000 deciduous fruit trees and will have 100,000 for the coming season.

Speaking of the nursery business, it might be well to mention, just here, that we are to have another in the autumn. An old nurseryman, Baldwin by name, purchased a plot here a short time ago and intends returning to engage in the business early in the fall. This will make three for Ontario, and there is plenty of room for all. And for the citrus line our situation is simply unrivaled, on account of our elevation, absolute freedom from smut and scale and rich and workable nature of the soil.

Lawn tennis appears to be the popular game. Members of the Ontario club may be seen accustoming themselves to the game, and enjoying the recreation, almost any evening of the week—Sunday, of course, excepted.

Mr. Baldridge, of the Citrus Cove Nursery, was here on Tuesday, delivering orange and lemon trees for immediate planting. The trees were excellent, and surrounded, as they are here, by perfect citrus conditions, will be sure to make a quick, vigorous growth.

Our orange groves are flourishing amazingly.

Mr. Phelps, of your city, was up visiting his 20-acre orange grove on Monday.

SAN GABRIEL.

A NEW WATER SYSTEM AND NEW DEPOT.

Correspondence of the Times.]

SAN GABRIEL, July 12.—The visit last week of Col. E. E. Hewitt has borne immediate fruit in starting the new depot building.

The "grand army" of railroad carpenters engaged on the new station is under canvas, and very warlike it all looks.

Ex Supervisor J. C. Hannon's new $3000 house is now in process of erection, and his popular and accomplished family are a big acquisition to this live and flourishing suburb.

"Old Mission ditch," the first Los Angeles aqueduct that many a day brought water to quench the thirst of Father Junipero Serra, is at last being put out of sight underground, in a fine iron pipe.

J. De Barth Shorb is making large additions to his home buildings.

Grape buyers are already in the market, and feel much discouraged at the prospect of a very light crop and a firm holding for a good figure.

W. P. Gardiner feels quite elated at the number of new and desirable neighbors H. J. Muller is furnishing him with. The light fantastic will be in order when the weather cools.

His "pard," W. D. Stephenson, has built himself a "shooting-box" on vineyard property near the town.

O. H. Burke has so far recovered from his Catalina trip as to contemplate the plans for his new house, about to be erected on his building site, with a sickly smile of satisfaction.

At every street corner one catches the words "pipe," "hydrant," "cement," "reservoir," and other words indicative of progress.

ANAHEIM.

A RESIDENCE BURNED—AN ATTACHMENT ISSUED AND DISSOLVED.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

ANAHEIM, July 8.—The residence of Mr. Hildebrande, of North Anaheim, caught fire in some way to-day, and was burned to the ground. There was, it is reported, $2000 insurance on the building in the Phœnix Insurance Company.

F. W. Duthman, a merchant of this place, was attached to-night on a writ in favor of H. Kroeger. It is said that bond to dissolve the attachment was given, and Mr. Duthman continues business. He had undertaken to sell some wine in Chicago, Jos. Kroeger acting as agent for him, but has been unable to sell it all yet, and the suit was brought, they say, to recover the value of the wine unsold.

D. W. C. Cowan and family, accompanied by Mr. Clark, have gone to San Antonio cañon for two weeks.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, July 13.

The Wheat market in Chicago to-day was weak and lower. In San Francisco it was moderately active and slightly higher. The local market remains unchanged.

The market for Wheat Bags continues very irregular. The San Francisco syndicate continues to hold its stock firmly at 10 cents. But outside lots are selling at all sorts of prices. These outside lots comprise bags of all sorts. The syndicate is offering to sell a grain sack, 22x36, for July delivery at 7¼ cents. The sack is sewed on the raw edge, and is not guaranteed, but some people are using sacks of this description. With careful handling they may answer. Sacks of the importation of 1885 and 1884 are also being offered at a considerable reduction on the syndicate price for importation of 1886. The only thing that can be said about the market is that it is irregular and apparently weak. Farmers are generally resisting the syndicate's price.

Sixteen mines are asking money from their owners this month. Six of these mines are in California, one in Arizona, one in New Mexico, and eight in Nevada. The last-named eight are in Storey county, and are located on the Comstock lode. These eight mines are asking for $285,900. The total asked by all is $433,400, which is distributed as follows: Nevada—Storey county, $285,900; California—Mono county, $87,900; Placer county, $20,000; Sierra, $5000; Los Angeles, $2000; total, $114,500; Arizona—Pima county, $30,000; New Mexico—Sierra county, $3000; grand total, $433,400. The mine in New Mexico is the Polar Star and this is the first call, the gross amount of which is estimated. The Palomas mine is in Los Angeles county, and this is the first instalment of capital.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Government bonds dull, firm.

Trading in stocks was almost without character until afternoon, and the general course of the market seems to indicate that operators are waiting and watching especially for the outcome of the meeting at Chicago. Most of the selling to-day was for shorts. First prices generally showed declines of ⅛ to ⅜ per cent., but Pacific Mail and Erie were up ⅛ per cent. The opening was dull, and subsequent trading during the morning hours was without feature. Prices continued firm, however, showing at noon small advances. The market closed firm. The activity was confined to Lackawanna, St. Paul, Lake Shore, Pacific Mail and Western Union. The net result of the day's business is an advance for a great majority of the active shares, ranging from ⅛ to ⅞ per cent. A few declines were made, however, but all for small fractions.

AT LAST.

The Temple Street Cable Road Completed

AND TURNED OVER TO THE COMPANY.

A Superb Piece of Work. Affording Rapid Transit to the West End—Brief Review and Description.

The Temple-street cable road, delayed by countless obstacles and numberless mechanical difficulties, is at last a triumphant success. It was turned over last night to the Board of Directors; was by them accepted with warm praise, and to-day it begins running regularly as a money-making institution. It is a piece of work of which the constructors and the owners have equal reason to feel proud—one of the most conscientious pieces of construction in Southern California.

The road was built by the Pacific Construction Company, which, in this case, means S. O. Brown, the thoroughbred mechanical expert and engineer who built the Second street cable road, and who has in the present case simply surpassed himself. He has done what Halliday and other cable-road experts swore could never be done—made a successful single-track cable road, running equally well in both directions. The most noticeable mechanical appliances of the road are of Mr. Brown's own invention, and will be patented. His new grip alone deserves to make his fortune.

Work on the road was begun December 28, 1885; and the track was completed May 8, 1886. In all that time there were but sixty-two working days.

The officers and board of directors of the road are as follows: President, Walter S. Maxwell; Vice-President, P. Beaudry; Secretary, O. Morgan; Directors, W. S. Maxwell, P. Beaudry, V. Beaudry, Thomas Stovell, John Milner, E. A. Hall, Ralph Rogers; Superintendent, Colonel A. H. Wand, an old cable-road man of San Francisco. The officers and directors took a ride over the road last evening, with several representatives of the press. The ride was a delightful one, the cars running with wonderful smoothness. The country opened up by the road is so familiar as to need no description. It will take a wonderful impetus now that this pleasant and rapid transit is afforded. The total cost of the road, stock, machinery, grading, etc., was about $90,000.

Following is a brief but accurate description.

THE CARS.

The cars were built by the John Stephenson Company, of New York, are fitted with the Stephenson patent super springs, have a seating capacity for fourteen passengers, and are models of elegance and easy motion.

THE DUMMIES.

The dummies were built at the engine house of the company, under the supervision of Mr. G. W. Douglas, of San Francisco, who is now there selecting the material for two open cars and two extra dummies, to be constructed without delay.

The dummies are what is known as "double enders," and differently constructed from any heretofore used, the changes made insuring greater strength in construction and more comfort to passengers. They are provided with a grip so made that turntables are unnecessary, and the train can be stopped at any point on the line and run in the opposite direction.

THE MACHINERY.

The engine is 16x36, full Corliss valve, of nominally 85 horse power, and capable of being worked up to 125-horse power. This may be considered ample, when only 38-horse power is required to propel all the cars fully loaded.

Some novel features have been introduced in the way of tension sheaves, which greatly economize room, and are extremely sensitive to the varying loads when the line is in full operation.

THE LINE.

The track is 8735 feet in length, provided with three intermediate and two terminal turnouts.

The yokes and appliances constituting the line were designed by the builders to withstand the heavy traffic which Temple street supports, and the examinations made previous to the acceptance of the road show the strength and rigidity of the line to be all that was claimed for it.

THE ROPE

was made by the California Wire Works, is 19,150 feet in length, 3¼ inches in circumference, and is what is known as flexible crucible steel.

There have been many delays in the completion of the line, owing mainly to the unusually wet winter and the blockade in freights.

THE BUILDERS.

The road was built by the Pacific Construction Company and under the supervision of S. O. Brown, vice-president and superintendent.

RATHER STUPID.

How Defaulter Allen was Allowed to Escape.

B. M. Allen, the embezzling timekeeper of the City Water Company, seems to be gone for good, through the incredible stupidity of those who had a chance to stop him. He skipped last Wednesday. Sheriff Gard, being notified that a man answering to the description of Allen, riding a horse like that with which Allen eloped, had gone up the San Gabriel canon, mounted his grey and started in pursuit. By riding all night he caught up with the man he was after, who turned out to be a green Dutchman. The Major followed several other clues all over the Azusa, Duarte and so on, making a total chase of four days and nights this red-hot weather. He got home yesterday, only to discover something that made him hotter than the weather. It seems that Allen, keeping very quiet, consumed from Wednesday to Friday in getting to San Fernando. On Friday he sold the horse near Van Nuys' ranch, and walked into San Fernando. He stayed in San Fernando three hours, waiting for the train. Part of this time he loafed in Bradshaw's saloon, and part around the depot. Sheriff Gard had telegraphed to the saloon a full description of the embezzler, his name, etc., and operator Sheridan took the message off the wires and delivered it. Allen went to the ticket-office, bought an emigrant ticket to San Francisco, and went off on the next train; and the wide-awake San Fernandans never lifted a finger. At 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, Sheridan telegraphed to the Sheriff, telling him these facts—ten hours after Allen had safely arrived in San Francisco!

ERICSON JAILED.

The San Pedro Cutter Committed for Trial.

The examination of John Ericson, the sailor who stabbed first mate Richard Bradley, of the American barkentine Webfoot, seven times, at San Pedro, on Sunday morning, was concluded on Monday evening, at San Pedro, and the prisoner was brought to the county jail in default of bail in $300, on the charge of assault to murder. Ericson, who is a Russian Finn, bears a detestable reputation, and had, only six days before the affray, been fined for battery. It is said that four months ago he stabbed a man to death at Puget Sound, and escaped. There was a great deal of talk of lynching Ericson after he had committed the deed, and hanging him to a lamp post. The condition of Bradley, who lies at the Sisters' Hospital, is said to be improving.

Fine Rural Decorations.

The mural paintings in the Nadeau bar, kept by Charles Eaton, deserve more than a passing comment. They are the most artistic works of that class ever before produced in Los Angeles, and consist of four elegant landscapes. The walls of the billiard hall also have been painted in exquisite and delicate style, and the ceiling is a miracle of neatness. The artists are Ottarson & Rivers, decorators.

Mormon Life.

Mann's thrilling Cycloramas of Mormon Life will be presented at Williams's Hall, Friday evening, July 16, Dr. J. M. Goyner, late President Sierra Madre College, who lived ten years in Utah, says: "I can most heartily recommend the Cycloramas as worthy the patronage of the American people."

Williamson Tract—188 Lots

This offering of first-class lots for residences in the midst of the handsomest improvements in Los Angeles will be the last opportunity to acquire centrally located lots at the owner's price per acre. Three hundred and ninety dollars is a nominal sum, and the payments are extended over one and a half years without interest. The location is within twelve minutes of the postoffice, with two lines of street cars (the Hellman line and the Electric Motor Railway) directly to the property.

They will be all elegantly finished inside, in Eastlake style, even to the kitchens. The houses will be 24x48, parlor and chamber, with sliding doors, dining-room, large hall, spacious kitchen, bath-room and porticoes.

There are no Narrow Streets and no side lots. Every street is 60 feet wide.

The masts for the electric lights are now being erected. These masts, being four in number on the City Center and this tract, will illumine every lot and residence with a flood of light; an ornament, a necessity and a safeguard.

The success of the homesteads of the Southern California Land Company is strictly owing to the low rate at which its properties are placed before the public, and the fact that it only offers first-class city locations. This Company points with just pride to the Childs Tract, Columbia Colony, Urmston Tract and the City Center Tract, the latter immediately adjoining the present lots.

A new feature of this beautiful property will be the planting of all the streets with large ornamental shade trees. A nursery of 4500 splendid trees of large size is already on the tract ready to be set out in the fall.

☞ Careful gardeners will be employed by the Company to take charge of them for one year. ☜

Four Handsome Villa Residences

TO BE ERECTED.

Planked Sidewalks, four feet wide, with substantial stringers, 2x4, will be placed on each side of every street.

Think of the location, Eleventh to Pico, and but two blocks from Pearl street.

The sale of this tract is on the homestead plan. The land is sold as an entirety, and delivered over to the subscribers with all the improvements of villa residences, planked sidewalks, electric lights, ornamental shade trees, etc., without further charge than the amount received in the aggregate from the subscribers, each one of whom has a vested right in the entire tract.

The meeting of the subscribers for the distribution of these lots is fixed for November 8, 1886. They agree to a mode of distribution (according to the Homestead Laws of 1862) on the same plan as that of the Childs tract, the Urmston tract and the City Center tract, all inaugurated by this firm.

The street railway on Pearl street, at the corner of Pico street, is within two blocks of the tract, and in sixty days Col. Howland's electric motor road will be completed on Pico street past this entire property.

Also all chronic diseases and diseases incident to females, successfully treated by Next the Diamond House, Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the head, throat and chest, treated by his new and improved system of Medicated Inhalation, which carry the remedies directly to the diseased parts, thereby effecting cures in many of the so-called incurable cases, the greater part of whom had not the slightest idea of ever being cured.

BRONCHITIS,

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glairy mucous, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the skin is clammy and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucus membrane of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearances of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stage of the disease the mucus membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucus membrane becomes congested and inflamed. There are no cavities nor tubercles in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger
